Description

This large and moving oil on canvas is in very good condition and is sold unframed. It is signed "Tannay" in the lower left corner, countersigned, and titled "Autumn" on the back. This beautiful work, depicting an elderly man pulling his coat close to shield himself from the autumn wind against a misty backdrop where the arch of a bridge in the capital can be glimpsed, is masterfully executed. The artist, a minor Parisian master from the pre-war period (circa 1930-1940), possessed a high level of mastery in his craft. This scene is both poignant and full of humanity. 20F format (73 x 60 cm). Shipped with an invoice--quick, careful, and very secure.
