Description

Untouched Late 19th-Century Scottish Arts & Crafts Pine Two-Door Wardrobe This superb late 19th / early 20th-century gentleman's wardrobe, circa 1890-1910, is a striking statement piece that beautifully combines elegance, utility, and period craftsmanship. Crafted from solid, richly figured flame pine, the wardrobe displays an exceptional grain, warm color, and outstanding original patina. The shaped, trefoil-pierced molded cornice sits above a pair of long, beautifully figured paneled doors, each fitted with a lock and a working key. The interior is thoughtfully arranged, with generous hanging space above three short drawers and one long drawer, offering excellent versatility for storing clothing, linens, and accessories. The entire piece stands firmly on a closed plinth base, ensuring stability and a
