Description

Carlo Antonio Raineri and Vittorio Raineri (attr.), painting on silk depicting a macaw, a toucan, and a weasel, circa 1825. Oil on silk painting, attributed to Carlo Antonio Raineri (1765-1826) and Vittorio Raineri (1797-1869), circa 1825, depicting a macaw and a toucan perched on a branch, with a weasel below, surrounded by flowers and colorful butterflies. Dimensions with frame: 99.5 x 81.5 cm. Dimensions of silk: 83 x 65 cm. The Raineri brothers (Carlo Antonio Raineri and Vittorio Raineri) were celebrated painters and decorators active between the late 18th and early 19th centuries. They are best known and recognizable for their naturalistic decorations and paintings of exotic birds, which were highly sought-after at the time and in keeping with the taste for chinoiserie.
