Description

A bearded male figure absorbed in reading, standing out against a background of vegetation rendered in broad swaths of color. The dynamic composition, built on an interplay of curves and vivid color contrasts--oranges, blues, greens--reflects Jean Aujame's characteristic expressionist and lyrical style. The figure blends into a swirling vegetative environment rendered with generous brushstrokes. Jean Aujame (Paris, 1905-1965), a French painter of the École de Paris and a student of Othon Friesz, exhibited regularly at the Salon d'Automne and the Salon des Indépendants. His works are included in several French public collections. Oil on canvas, framed in a carved wooden frame.
