

Small Kidney-shaped Mahogany Chest Of Drawers, Transition Style - Early 20th Century

1 800 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Restauré par notre atelier

Material : Mahogany

Width : 61

Height : 79

Depth : 41

Description

This elegant chest of drawers, crafted from mahogany and mahogany veneer in the early 20th century in the true spirit of the Transition style, embodies the harmonious blend of curves inherited from the Louis XV period and the emerging austerity of the Louis XVI period. Its delicately curved, kidney-shaped form gives it a feminine and fluid silhouette. The top is crowned with Griotte marble, featuring deep, veined hues, and is carefully edged with an openwork brass trim. This finely cut border adds an extra touch of sophistication while highlighting the nobility of the marble. The ornate front opens to reveal two drawers fitted with chiseled bronze keys. The drawers are lined with brass moldings, which add rhythm to the surface and accentuate the piece's subtle geometry. The bronze lock plates, shaped

Dealer

Antiquités Lecomte

Antiquaire Généraliste

Tel : 02.40.57.63.83

Mobile : 06.38.26.81.12

33 La Bosse des Landes

HERIC 44810

like Louis XVI knots, add a delicate and aristocratic touch, typical of neoclassical ornamentation. The leg posts are embellished with finely crafted bronze finials. The curved legs are topped with finials that protect and enhance the base of the piece. This small chest of drawers, both decorative and functional, embodies the excellence of early 20th-century French furniture: a piece of character, where every line, every material, and every ornament tells a story of taste, craftsmanship, and timeless elegance.Period: Early 20th centuryIn very fine condition following restoration in our cabinetmaking workshopUnique keyDelivery available upon quote in France and internationallyDimensions:Width: 61 cmDepth: 41 cmHeight: 79 cmReference: 695V