

Large Mahogany Desk - Empire Style - Leather Top - Side Drawers

1 700 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Mahogany

Width : 170/260

Height : 76

Depth : 85

Description

Large mahogany console table - Empire style - Leather top - Side pull handles Elegant and imposing mahogany console table, crafted in the Empire style / Brought back from Egypt, featuring beautiful proportions and a particularly decorative design. The large rectangular top is upholstered in burgundy red leather, divided into three sections and accented by an elegant gold frieze with fine engraving. It is complemented by two side pull-outs, each upholstered in green leather with gilded decoration, which significantly increase the work surface. The front features five drawers: a large central drawer and four drawers arranged in pairs on either side. They are fitted with lock openings and bronze handles. The desk rests on four column-style legs, adorned with gilded bronze rings. They are joined

Dealer

Tino antiquites

Mobilier

Mobile : 0763127955

11 rue de bel air à l'huis laurent

Dun les Places 58230

at the base by a remarkable X-shaped brace with wide, curved crossbars, giving the piece a silhouette that is both elegant and monumental. This desk is designed to be placed in the center of a room, as its back is also ornately carved. Some marks, wear, and signs of use are visible, particularly on the leather, as shown in the photographs. Period / style: Empire style, late 19th century Material: mahogany Upholstery: burgundy red leather and green leathers Ornamentation: bronzes and gilded trim Dimensions when closed: Height: 76 cm Width: 170 cm Depth: 85 cm Total width with both pull-out sections open: approximately 260 cm.