Description

750 gold (18-karat) earrings, an architectural creation by German designer Jette Joop. Their pyramidal shape consists of a gold setting featuring naturally occurring, geometrically cut amethysts. This openwork structure allows light to enter the stones from different angles, causing their rich purple hue to shift as the light changes. Jette Joop's initials (JJ) are harmoniously integrated at the top of the pyramid. They bear the manufacturer's hallmark and a certificate of quality issued by the Lithuanian Assay Office. Jette Joop (born in 1968 in Brunswick) is a German designer who has created numerous pieces of jewelry, fashion accessories, and decorative objects. Her jewelry designs are distinguished by pure geometric shapes, high-quality materials, and a modern take on
