Description

An elegant ring in 750 (18-karat) white gold, adorned with a white cultured pearl and diamonds. At the center, an 11-mm round pearl is set, flanked on one side by an openwork arch set with 51 natural round diamonds. The asymmetrical design conveys a sense of lightness and highlights the pearl, the true centerpiece of the piece. The diamonds are set using the micro-pavé technique, creating a continuous streak of light. The delicate white gold band ensures a clean and precise design. The openwork structure adds visual lightness and allows the pearl and the diamond band to be admired from different angles. Manufacturer's hallmark, certified by the Lithuanian Bureau of Guarantees.
