Description

This bronze sculpture depicts Joan of Arc standing in a pose that is at once devoted, inspired, and resolutely turned toward the heavens. She wears a long dress with rolled-up sleeves, a symbol of hard work. Her right arm is raised, as if to answer a divine call or converse with a higher power. Her face is turned toward the sky, expressing spiritual elevation or unshakable faith. At her side stands a lamb, delicately sculpted with a realistic texture, which reinforces the pastoral, humble, and sacred dimension of the scene: it evokes purity, sacrifice, and divine calling. This sculpture blends heroism, humility, and mysticism in a balanced and expressive composition. Etienne Watrin (-1915) was a French sculptor active in the late 19th and early 20th centuries. Known for his figurative bronzes and
