

Elegant Italian-made Demi-lune Console Table From The Late 18th Century

1 700 EUR

Period : 18th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Painted wood

Width : 128

Height : 96

Depth : 65

Description

An elegant Italian-made demi-lune console table from the late 18th century, crafted in the neoclassical style. The top is made of fine Giallo Siena marble, characterized by warm golden tones and natural veining. The band beneath the top is finely carved with plant motifs and classical-style masks, executed with great decorative artistry. The slender, fluted truncated pyramid legs lend balance and lightness to the piece as a whole. A piece of great elegance and prestige, ideal for entryways, living rooms, or classic interiors, capable of enhancing any space with its historic and refined charm.

Dealer

Il Rigattiere di Martini

Antiques

Mobile : +393392392619

Via Aurelia nord 92

Grosseto 58100