Description

A beautiful pair of Fidia wall sconces, designed by Mario Botta for Artemide. Manufactured in Italy, these wall sconces reflect the Italian designer's distinctive architectural and geometric style. The black-and-white metal structure, featuring finely perforated surfaces and curved, enveloping shapes, creates an intriguing interplay of light, material, and shadow. The understated, sculptural aesthetic fits within the Brutalist style, while maintaining the functional elegance typical of Italian design of that era. The pair is offered in exceptional condition: both wall sconces are new, unused, and have never been installed. They still bear the original Artemide labels, a feature of particular interest to collectors that attests to their original condition. Measuring 27 cm in height, 46 cm in width, and 21.6 cm in depth, these light
