Description

A very beautiful and rare footed bowl with a dynamic enameled hunting scene. It is attributed to the artist Josef Lenhardt, who excelled in enameled painted decoration in the 19th century. This artist frequently worked in black enamel, but also in polychrome. He demonstrates a refined and meticulous attention to detail in his decoration. This bowl is in very good condition considering its age; there are no chips, just a light patina, but nothing significant. Its dimensions are 15 cm in height, 21 x 11 cm at the rim, and a round base 10 cm in diameter. Note: there is an air bubble in the base.
