

Gallé Perfume Bottle Made Of Multilayered Glass - Art Nouveau, Circa 1900

480 EUR

Signature : Émile gallé

Period : 20th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Glass paste

Diameter : 5cm

Height : 17,5cm

Description

An elegant perfume spray bottle by Gallé, from the Art Nouveau period, crafted from multilayered glass. The conical bottle features a delicate acid-etched floral design, composed of flowers, buds, foliage, and long stems in shades of orange-red on a nuanced amber-yellow background. The design is accompanied by the "Gallé" signature, engraved as a cameo in the glass and visible on the lower part of the bottle. An interesting detail is that the spray bottle also retains its original paper label beneath its base, bearing the inscription "GALLÉ - NANCY-PARIS," accompanied by a handwritten number. The preservation of this original label is a significant feature of this piece. The bottle is complemented by its gilded metal mount, featuring a long hose sheathed in braided metal.

Dealer

Galerie Vincent Art

Antiquaire généraliste XVIII à XXe siècle , meubles et objets de collection

Mobile : 0616457006

56 grande rue

Juvisy-sur-Orge 91260

and a spray bulb also covered in a gilded metal mesh. A fine example of Gallé's Art Nouveau-period production, combining glassware with floral decoration and an elegant spray mount. Period: early 20th century, circa 1900-1910 Style: Art Nouveau Manufacturer: Gallé, Nancy Materials: acid-etched multilayered glass and gilded metal Decor: flowers, buds, and foliage Signature: "Gallé" cameo engraved within the design Label: original "GALLÉ - NANCY-PARIS" label under the base, with a handwritten number Dimensions: height 17.5 cm - diameter 5 cm Condition: generally good condition, with some signs of age and wear on the metal parts; the pear is dried out, as visible in the photographs.