paintings depicting the history of the port. The port of Bordeaux remained a recurring source of inspiration for him. Having assimilated the principles of Naturalism, Impressionism, and photographic composition, Cazaubon became a master in the art of depicting ships and capturing the activities of this port, as illustrated by our painting. Behind the figures and the gabare in the foreground, one can make out other ships and the Maritime Exchange, as well as, in the distance, the Pont de Pierre and the spire of the Basilica Saint-Michel, which towers over the port at a height of 114 meters.
