Description

Italian chest of drawers Lombardy Featuring hunting scenes Early 19th century Made of walnut This piece showcases the distinctive curved lines of the Lombard style. Its distinctly curved front features three drawers and reveals sophisticated marquetry that combines precious woods with bone inlays. On the front, the decoration depicts dynamic hunting scenes: silhouettes of animals in full flight (deer, dogs, or wolves) are finely carved from ivory. The side panels feature a more classical style, combining geometric diamond patterns with vases of flowers, all accented by delicate scrollwork. Finally, the top surface is enhanced by a carved and gilded border featuring foliage motifs, while the structure rests on tall, arched legs characteristic of its era. Dimensions: 73 cm long x
