Description

An imposing pair of plaster columns, standing 215 cm tall. Characterized by a profile of great purity, these columns feature a smooth, tapered shaft inspired by the classical codes of ancient architecture, completely free of excessive ornamentation. A simple circular molding (a clean echinus) rings the top platform. Perfect for holding decorative objects. As shown in the photos, these columns serve as tall pedestals to elevate a space by highlighting draped urns, vases, or sculptures. An opening is cut into the top of each platform to allow cables to pass through for overhead spotlighting. Please note that the light fixtures are included with the pair of columns. These consist of adjustable brass spotlights (white finish) with a modifiable beam and a 450 cm fabric-covered cord. This pair of columns is ideal for structuring an entryway, framing an opening (such as a door or mirror), or dressing the corners of a reception room by adding height and a truly theatrical dimension. Plaster is a noble, natural material that offers a highly elegant matte texture. The current finish features a subtle patina with shades of grey and cream, delicately mimicking the appearance of stone or an ancient plaster finish. Top platform diameter: 27.5 cm
