Description

A pair of 18th-century Italian mirrors made of carved, openwork, and gilded wood. With an undulating shape, each features a central oval mirror surrounded by four small circular mirrors set within a decorative pattern of volutes, foliage, and rocaille motifs. Beautiful openwork carving and antique gilding showing some signs of wear. The backs reveal traditional artisanal construction and tool marks. Antique glass panels with a few pinholes. 18th-century Italian work. Dimensions: 60 × 40 cm.
