Description

An exquisite 19th-century Italian-made demi-lune console table, embellished with an elegant top in fine Giallo Siena marble, featuring warm golden veining. The frame, finely lacquered and partially gilded, is adorned with rich plant-inspired decoration and a variety of Neoclassical ornamental motifs, reflecting great craftsmanship. The circular-section, fluted, and tapered pyramid-shaped legs lend the piece a sense of grace, balance, and great refinement. A piece of furniture of extraordinary elegance, ideal for enhancing entryways, living rooms, or reception areas--a perfect blend of functionality and decorative prestige.
