Description

Large oil on canvas depicting a young Breton woman sitting on a parapet; early 20th-century Breton school. Composition depicting a young woman seated in the foreground, dressed in a traditional Breton costume consisting of a white headdress, a blue blouse, and an orange or brick-red skirt. She is seated on a sandy riverbank overlooking an estuary or a calm river. In the background is a rural village consisting of low houses with light-colored roofs, scattered across green hills. Warm light illuminates the buildings on the left, while the landscape opens onto a vast expanse of water in shades of blue and gray. Please note that this painting had to be folded, so vertical restoration marks are visible. Shipping within France: 20EUR Shipping within Europe: 40EUR Shipping to any other
