Description

Charming English-style side table made of mahogany or mahogany veneer, topped with a veined gray marble tabletop. The upper section opens with a front-facing drawer featuring a decorative gold-plated metal knob. The lower section features a door decorated with a trompe-l'oeil design imitating a row of bound books--a highly decorative and sophisticated detail perfect for a library or study. The marble top lends the piece a beautiful elegance, creating a refined contrast between the warm wood, the gray veins of the marble, and the gilded metal details. The straight legs, finished with brass feet, evoke classic English style with a Louis XVI influence. Thanks to its compact dimensions, this piece can be used as a side table, nightstand, small bookcase, or decorative accent in a living
