Description

Frank Walters (British, late 19th century) - Highland Cattle on the Lakeshore. 51.5 x 76.5 cm (without frame) - 57 x 82 cm (with frame). Oil on canvas, in a gilded wooden frame. Signed lower left: «F. Walters». Frank Walters was a British painter active between the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries, known for his depictions of Scottish landscapes and Highland cattle. His work belongs to the tradition of British animal painting that, throughout the nineteenth century, had found its most celebrated exponent in Edwin Landseer, who elevated the Highland cattle motif to a pictorially noble and commercially successful subject. In this painting, three cattle with thick red and tawny coats are depicted on the bank of a mountain lake, set against an autumnal landscape dominated by
