Description

Pair of acid-etched green crystal vases, attributed to Baccarat, with gilded bronze mounts, Art Nouveau period, circa 1900. A striking and elegant pair of cylindrical vases made of emerald-green blown crystal, adorned with a delicate acid-etched floral design on a finely frosted background. The Japanese-inspired design perfectly illustrates the aesthetic of the nascent Art Nouveau movement, in which nature is interpreted with great elegance. The long, stylized leaves stand out with finesse against the satin-finish background, while a gold border delicately highlights the neck. Each vase retains its original finely chiseled and gilded bronze mount, featuring a beautiful antique patina.

that attests to the precious nature of this set. Given the exceptional quality of the crystal, the finesse of the engraving, the treatment of the decoration, and the combination with gilded bronze, this pair can be attributed to the Baccarat crystalworks, evoking its prestigious creations from the turn of the 19th and 20th centuries. Rare for its Japanese-inspired decoration, its excellent condition, and the presence of its original mounts, this pair stands as a remarkable testament to the refinement of French decorative arts during the Belle Époque. Height: 25 cm. Diameter: 10 cm. Period: circa 1895-1905. Condition: excellent condition.
