Description

Pair of four-light Louis XVI-style candelabras in silver-plated bronze, round base adorned with a beaded frieze, domed section carved with ribbon-like lines and pleats, lamp mountings adorned with beautiful pendants of translucent and colored cut crystal (amber and amethyst), lower pendants shaped like fruits and leaves, dating from the late 19th century. These candelabra are in good condition and have been electrified. They are very decorative; their pinnacle-like structure gives them a slender and elegant appearance. Please note: some loss of silver plating on the bases in places, some dirt, scratches, and signs of age on the crystal; see photos for details.
