Description

Oil on canvas, French School. Seascape depicting a bisquine, the traditional fishing boat of the Cancale and Saint-Malo region. These wooden boats were originally designed in the 19th century for oyster dredging and coastal fishing. This sailboat is famous in the maritime world for having the largest sail area relative to the size of its hull. The painter Jean Barrieux skillfully captures the power of this iconic sailboat, famous for its impressive sails. A vibrant, authentic work, perfect for maritime history enthusiasts or for seaside decor. Signed in the lower right corner. Frame dimensions: 52 x 43.5 cm (original frame by framer Geo) Painting dimensions: 35 x 27 cm Good condition.
