Description

A beautiful, very large porcelain bowl in the Sèvres style, with a rich, gilded, and chased bronze mount. The "sky blue" bowl features two beautiful hand-painted scenes. The first depicts an allegory of Fire, with putti forging arrows; the second represents Water, with young angels playing by a stream. The interior is painted with a floral scene featuring butterflies and dragonflies. The rim is decorated with foliage, acanthus leaves, and two gilded bronze lion muzzles biting a ring, symbolizing the handles. Magnificent base in chiseled and gilded bronze, consisting of a trio of Cupid figures seated on rocks. In very good condition; one bowl has been restored. Late 19th century.
