Description

A refined and impressive ebonized wood frame dating back to the 19th century or earlier.

The frame features a complex, deep stepped molding enriched with

"guilloché" patterning (carved wave or relief moldings)--a style characteristic of fine Flemish, Dutch, and Northern Italian cabinetmaking from the 19th century or earlier.

The rear structure remains intact and original to the period. The piece is in excellent overall condition, boasting a splendid, deep, dark patina.

Ideal for framing antique paintings (portraits, still lifes, religious subjects, or genre scenes) from the 17th century.
