

German 800-thousandths Silver Planter In The Neoclassical Style - Napoleon III Period

2 200 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Sterling silver

Description

German 800-thousandths silver planter in the neoclassical style - Napoleon III period
German 800-thousandths silver planter from the Napoleon III period, accompanied by its removable silver-plated brass inner tray. Oval and elongated in shape, the planter rests on a molded pedestal. The body features decoration in the neoclassical style, with friezes of water leaves, rows of pearls, foliage, and oval medallions. The ends are fitted with two large movable ring handles, held in place by leaf-shaped fasteners. The decoration combines several ornamental styles characteristic of the Napoleonic III era, with a predominance of Neoclassical and Louis XVI motifs, supplemented by certain more dynamic elements borrowed from the decorative repertoire of the 18th century. The central medallion is

Dealer

MGA gallery

La passion de l'argenterie

Tel : +32 477 63 01 17

Rue Watteeu 9 et 25

Bruxelles 1000

unengraved; the piece bears neither a date nor a coat of arms. The 800-thousandths silver mount weighs 994 grams. With its removable silver-plated brass inner tray, the total weight is 1,758 grams. SpecificationsItem: planterMaterial: 800-th silverInterior: removable silver-plated brass trayOrigin: GermanyPeriod: Napoleon IIIStyle: Neoclassical, predominantly Louis XVIDecoration: water leaves, rows of pearls, foliage, and medallionsLength: 52 cmWidth: 22 cmHeight: 17.5 cmWeight of the silver frame: 994 gTotal weight including inner tray: 1,758 gMonogram / coat of arms: none; medallion unengravedCondition: perfect condition