Description

Exceptional pair of Louis XV armchairs in walnut, stamped "Nadal" - 18th century. An elegant pair of Louis XV-era armchairs, crafted from walnut, featuring exquisite woodworking and the soft, refined lines characteristic of 18th-century Parisian furniture. The dynamically shaped backs and crossbars, combined with the curved legs, give this pair a particularly elegant presence. The light patina currently applied highlights the delicacy of the lines and allows them to blend seamlessly into both a classic interior and a more contemporary decor. Both armchairs bear the stamp of Nadal, an 18th-century Parisian chairmaker, lending this set undeniable historical and artistic significance. The armchairs are currently finished in white and can be reupholstered according to the buyer's wishes,
