Description

Refined and unique twelve-light chandelier crafted from bronze and gilt brass. Its distinctive beauty lies in its intricate ornamentation, featuring wheat stalks, grapevine tendrils, foliage, flower buds, and roses; the roses are oriented downwards to hold the light bulbs, as the piece was originally designed for electricity. The upper section and the lower finial--complete with a decorative cup--are also adorned with exquisite phytomorphic motifs. This is a chandelier of great taste and sophistication, capable of adding a touch of class and antique charm to any interior. Italian manufacture, early 20th century.
