Description

An elegant fine porcelain coffee set in the Satsuma style, consisting of a coffee pot, a milk jug, a lidded sugar bowl, six cups, and their saucers, presented on a large matching tray. The set is richly decorated with delicate Japanese-inspired motifs, polychrome flowers, and panels adorned with birds, enhanced by beautiful raised gilding. The handles and feet, featuring openwork decoration, attest to refined craftsmanship inspired by Japanese aesthetics, which enjoyed immense popularity in Europe in the late 19th century. A remarkable decorative set, emblematic of the Japonism movement, combining finesse of execution with elegance. Period: late 19th century (circa 1880-1900). Style: Japonism, in the Satsuma style. Tray dimensions: diameter 50 cm.
