Description

An important Louis XIV Regency panel in carved and gilded wood, featuring acanthus leaves in the round winding around a central floral motif in high relief, dating from the 18th century. This Italian piece is an ornamental element that was originally part of a set of woodwork, possibly a coffered ceiling panel. The piece as a whole conveys a dynamic and powerful Baroque style, enhanced by the quality of the gilding and the original polychrome paintwork, which remains fresh and luminous. Good condition, with standard restoration and maintenance work; signs of wear and slight loss of gilding visible in the photos. We ship worldwide; please contact us for an accurate shipping quote.
