Description

An elegant Empire-style coffee table, crafted in the early 19th century from fine mahogany and embellished with refined mahogany feather veneers, which enhance its rich color and the depth of its grain. The circular top is crowned with prestigious Belgian Black marble, a material particularly prized in the period's ceremonial furnishings for its compact surface and intense dark color, which contrasts elegantly with the warm tones of the wood. The structure is distinguished by its characteristic carved central support, embellished with decorative elements in the classical style and connected to the top by elegant curved legs. The circular base exhibits a formal balance typical of the Empire style, with sober and monumental lines inspired by ancient art. A piece of great visual impact and remarkable
