

Sword Belt Of A Marshal Of The Logis In The Mounted Grenadiers / Guard Dragons, 1805

5 500 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bon état

Description

SWORD BELT FOR A MARÉCHAL DES LOGIS OR A TROMPETTE IN THE MOUNTED GRENADIERS OR THE DRAGONS OF THE IMPERIAL GUARD, First Empire. 33797 Rectangular brass belt plate for a non-commissioned officer, H 8.5 cm, width 9 cm without the curve, width 10 cm with the curve, with the four corners cut at an angle. Central motif depicting a flaming bomb, cast in brass, H 6 cm. Complete with its trigger guard and rear hook. Belt made of bleached buffalo leather with stitched edges. Consists of three strips (each strip 6.7 cm wide and 16.5 cm long, 20 cm, and 44 cm) (with a 38 cm loop) connected by two brass rings (outer diameter of each ring 5.56 cm, thickness 5 mm). Suspension straps made of bleached buffalo leather with stitched edges, 3.5 cm wide,

Dealer

Bertrand Malvaux

Expert agréé par la CNES Chambre Nationale des Experts
Spécialisés

Tel : 02 40 73 36 00

Mobile : 06 07 75 74 63

22 rue Crébillon

Nantes 44000

31.5 cm and 63 cm long; they are fitted with rectangular brass buckles. France. First Empire. Very good condition NOTE: Only the marshal's sergeants and trumpeters did not have carabiners in the Imperial Guard.