Statue Of The Virgin And Child In White Porcelain Biscuit, Attributed To Cyfflé, Late 19th Century

550 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Biscuit

Description

An elegant depiction of the crowned Virgin Mary holding the Baby Jesus, crafted from high-quality white bisque porcelain. The Virgin, dressed in a loose-fitting, finely draped cloak, presents the Child seated on her left arm in a composition imbued with gentleness and serenity. The base is adorned with raised stars and a symbolic Marian motif. The delicate rendering of the faces, the finesse of the drapery, and the overall quality of the modeling are reminiscent of French or Belgian religious works from the late 19th century. A molded signature, which is difficult to read, appears to resemble the name "Cyfflé," hence this cautious attribution. This significant religious biscuit porcelain sculpture makes for a beautiful decorative and spiritual presence. Dimensions: Height: 53.5 cm Base
