Description

Antique yellow gold brooch-pendant with openwork engraving. Centered on a cameo carved with a woman's profile, surrounded by three small rubies and openwork-engraved laurel leaves. The central cameo: A delicate shell carving depicting a woman's bust in profile in a classical style. The gold setting: A richly crafted yellow gold structure featuring foliage and scroll motifs. The gemstones and pearls: The piece is adorned with small rubies and fine pearls, including a dangling pearl. The period: The decorative style is reminiscent of the Napoleon III period or the Victorian era (mid- to late 19th century). The case: The piece rests in an antique box lined with blue and purple velvet, typical of that era.
