19th-century Greyhound Mummy

450 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Parfait état

Material : Other

Description

Not for the faint of heart...He was once a greyhound. I don't quite understand how this brave dog could have ended his days forgotten in a place with no way out, where time mummified him. Cats--demonized in medieval foundations--are sometimes found, but dogs rarely are.He turned up and then spent some time in a cabinet of curiosities in a Breton castle.Today, he is presented to you in the same condition and the same position he assumed for eternity.To display, hang, or frame... He measures 75 cm long, 32 cm wide, and 11 cm deep.

Dealer

Complément d'objets

sciences, ethnical, naturalia, artificialia, didactical items, curiosities

Tel :

Mobile : 00 32 477 450 595

Wemmel 1780