Description

A painting on copper depicting the Virgin Mary holding the Infant Jesus. The two main figures are accompanied by a saint holding a liturgical object, which could be a pyx. This would allow us to identify the saint depicted on the right as Saint Clare of Assisi, whose attribute is the pyx, a sacred vessel used to store consecrated hosts. This is a small oil painting intended for private devotion in a home setting. Good condition (some losses on the painted surface, wear, copper oxidation). 17th century Dimensions: 16.3 x 13.2 cm
