Description

A wrought-iron double bed, characterized by refined scrollwork and curlicues typical of the late 18th century. The frame is embellished with painted floral and foliage motifs featuring gilded details, which lend it a timeless elegance. The corners are adorned with Solomonic columns, accented by bronze finials, which add a touch of grandeur. Despite some modifications made over time, the piece retains its authenticity and original charm. This bed, from Genoa, is a significant example of Italian craftsmanship from that era.ANMOLE0308151
