Description

An Italian-made table from the 1960s crafted from oak, featuring a minimalist design that reflects the style of the period. The tabletop is made of colored Formica, a typical choice of the era that adds a touch of vibrancy and modernity to the piece. The clean lines and slender legs give the table an elegant and functional look, perfect for blending into a variety of interior settings. The restoration carried out in our workshop in Cambiago has preserved the table's authenticity while ensuring its strength and longevity. MOTATA0324514
