Description

Largeround plaque, made of blackened silver-plated copper. Third Republic period. Set against a blazing sun, the gymnast, with his left fist clenched and his right hand on his hip, ready for the challenge, gazes intently to his left. Behind him, Glory stands on her pedestal holding the palm branch and the laurel wreath. In front of him is the motto: POUR LA PATRIE. On the reverse, 3 mounting screws. Diameter: 25 cm. Weight: 0.640 kg This type of object was awarded (most often in the form of a medal) for athletic merit, military training, gymnastics club competitions, shooting competitions, etc. Un très belle plaque, en parfait état, reflète des courants valorisant le sport et les athlètes dans cette période de l'entre-deux guerres, qui mériterait un support en verre ou en marbre.
