Description

"Helix Spiral Swivel" Glass Table - France, circa 1980 - In the style of Danny Lane A very beautiful and original vintage round glass "Helix Spiral Swivel" table, a French piece from the 1980s, inspired by the creations of designer Danny Lane. This spectacular table stands out for its sculptural central base composed of numerous thick glass slats stacked and arranged in a spiral, forming a true helix. This construction creates a remarkable interplay of transparency, light, and movement. It features a large, removable circular glass top, complemented by an inner circular tray. The structure rests on a substantial round base made of several layers of glass. An iconic piece of 1980s design, both functional and sculptural, particularly decorative in a contemporary interior or paired with antique
