Description

Pair of large ceramic planters with polychrome floral decoration - China, 20th century A beautiful and decorative pair of large glazed ceramic planters, oval in shape with a wide, flared opening. Each piece features a rich hand-painted polychrome floral design, composed of brightly colored flowers--blue, orange-red, and yellow--standing out against long, stylized leaves and grasses. The upper section is enlivened by a sky-blue background dotted with white clouds, dragonflies, and plant motifs. The neck is accented by a blue ornamental frieze, while the wide rim also features a painted design. The fresh and luminous color palette gives this pair a particularly decorative presence. The base is open, allowing them to be used as planters or flowerpots. Origin: China / Far East Period: 20th
