Description

Léonie Humbert-Vignot (1878-1960) was a French painter trained at the École des Beaux-Arts, known for her expressive portraits and vigorous brushwork. Her work, rooted in the French realist tradition of the early 20th century, is distinguished by a masterful command of the medium and a particular focus on the psychology of her subjects. This oil on panel depicts a male portrait in profile, wearing a dark hat and a bright red scarf. The energetic brushwork, sharp contrasts, and rich color palette lend this portrait a striking presence. The work is presented in a black and gilded wooden frame that is understated yet flattering. Technique: Oil on panel Dimensions: 19 × 15 cm Subject: Male portrait in profile, wearing a red scarf Signature: Signed lower left Frame: Black and gilded wood
