Description

An elegant Belgian mirror from around 1900, featuring a finely molded giltwood frame in the Neoclassical style. The rectangular oak structure is enriched with a repeating carved motif of stylized leaves and scrolls, highlighted by a warm gold finish with subtle burnishing that accentuates its depth and craftsmanship. The mirror retains its original glass and backing, presenting a clean reflection and a refined silhouette suitable for both vertical and horizontal display. Minor wear to the gilding consistent with age adds charm and authenticity to its antique character. This piece embodies the graceful symmetry and understated ornamentation typical of late-19th-century Belgian Neoclassicism--ideal for adding a touch of timeless refinement to any interior.
