Description

An exceptional set of four original Plia chairs, designed by the renowned Italian designer Giancarlo Piretti for Anonima Castelli. A true icon of 20th-century Italian design, the Plia chair stands out for its elegant chrome-plated tubular metal frame, its translucent plastic seats and backs, and its ingenious folding mechanism. First unveiled in 1967 at the Milan Furniture Fair, the Plia revolutionized the concept of the folding chair thanks to its famous three-disc hinge system. Its avant-garde aesthetic and remarkable visual lightness have made it an iconic piece of Italian industrial design. This set of four chairs, with their understated and refined lines, makes a striking statement around a dining table. Their transparency and chrome structure blend seamlessly into a contemporary interior as well as
