Description

UNLEAVENED BREAD. A porcelain jar with a vibrant polychrome design and a lid with a gold border. This is signed Limoges porcelain dating from the first half of the 20th century.

As a reminder, matzo is an unleavened bread made solely from water and flour, which holds great symbolic significance in Judaism and Christianity. In Judaism, Passover (Pesach) is the ritual meal commemorating the Hebrews' hasty exodus from Egypt. We offer buyers fast shipping and insured delivery, including packaging, for 24 euros.
