Description

A stunning ring in 18-karat yellow gold and platinum, featuring a large rectangular bezel with beveled edges. The top is entirely set with old-cut diamonds, arranged in diagonal lines alternating with fine rows of calibrated sapphires, forming an elegant geometric pattern. The delicately openwork setting is a testament to exceptionally meticulous craftsmanship. The side prongs are accented with small diamonds. Dated circa 1900. In very good overall condition. A very slight distortion of the setting, imperceptible when worn and having no impact on the ring's overall appearance. Gross weight: 3.94 g
