Description

Large decorative wall plate created by Edmond Lachenal, a famous French ceramic artist of the Art Nouveau period. Dated 1906, this work features an elegant painted design depicting a couple embracing in the midst of a rural landscape. A winding path runs through the composition, while a church stands out in the background, creating a poetic atmosphere with delicate tones. The treatment of the landscape, the silhouettes of the figures, and the soft hues reflect the influence of Japonism and Art Nouveau aesthetics. The artist's signature and the date "E. Lachenal, 1906" are visible within the design. Diameter 37.5 cm, 1530 g. In perfect condition. Secure packaging and fast shipping with insurance and tracking.
