Description

A pastel portrait of a French officer. He is wearing a blue jacket with white lapels, adorned with gold epaulets and buttons. This style of depiction is typical of the late 18th century. The pastel is set in a gilded wooden frame, the key-and-slot mounting of which is visible in one of the photos. The work is covered by an antique pane of irregular, wavy glass whose reflections play with the light, adding a touch of authenticity.
