550 EUR

Period : 18th century

Condition : Très bon état

Diameter : 37,4 cm

Height : 6,2 cm

Description

Large decorative round dish made of Chinese porcelain from the Compagnie des Indes, Famille Rose; the central medallion is decorated with blooming pink flowers, and the inner rim features a stylized floral frieze; on the rim, multi-lobed reserves frame other bouquets of flowers as well as brown-orange scrolls evoking traditional Chinese motifs, from the late 18th-century Qianlong period. This dish is in good condition and is very decorative due to its size. Please note: a few very minor glaze defects and wear on the decorations; see photos.
